Weekly Bulletin

20 October 2023 (Autumn Term Week 7)

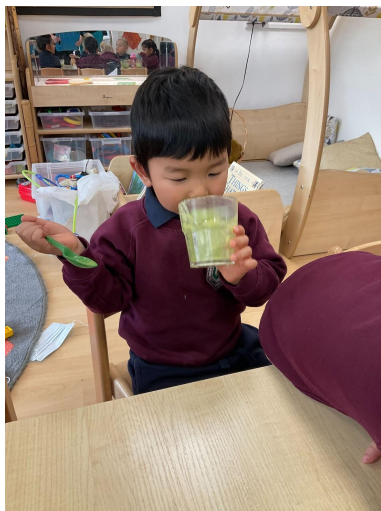

The traditional story of The Princess and the Pea has been a great book to teach the children the simple message 'You can't judge a book by its cover'. Quite a deep concept but they have had the basics.

Great for some, not so great for some adults, the children have explored peas in various ways. Mashing frozen peas, making pea playdough and making and eating pea and onion soup.

There was also a great opportunity for some science based activities; creating the princess bed, seeing how many layers of blankets would be needed before they couldn't feel the pea anymore.

Bumble Bees Class

Autumn has been a big focus for our younger children this week with hedgehog making, painting with pine cones and exploring all the Autumnal materials which are available.

Apologies too because I said last week that they would be looking at the story 'Room on the Broom' this week. It was actually 3 Billy Goats Gruff. Below, you can see a lovely story tray which the children can use to retell the story.

Bumble Bees PE lesson

This week, the children were looking at different animals and the way in which they move.

Next Week

- 2 year olds - The Scarecrows' Wedding
- 3 and 4 year olds - Half Term, Monday 23 October - Monday 6 November
